A PROCLAMA ION.

Among the duties that devo we upon us as a people is the perpetuation of those religious observances which have descended with a long-established and venerated with a long-established to long-established and venerated with a long-established and venerated veneration of Biddeford. Biddeford of go to the uncle's house, arrest the boy and hold him till he could send some one to bring him home. The city marsha being unable to leave, a well-known constable made the journey, upon suggestion of the marshal. The lost boy, however, was standing on Court street, opposite the postofice, less than two hours after the constable left for Biddeford. The uncle standed for Auburn with the boy soon and units in Divine worship. With grateful and penitent hearts let us praise God for his manifely and the city marsha. Two incendiary fires were started in Lewiston, Saturiay night. There seems to be a real fire-bug in town. He had better keep his legs in good condition for he will need them to get away on it the police find out who he is. At 8.30 Saturday evening, Mrs. Frazer discovered some person building a fire in the little room off from the ticket office and near the grand stand at the Sabatis street haseball ground. She warned Mr. Ham, who lives near, and he telephoned to the engine house. A hose truck earne up Ash and College to Sebatis street on the run a few moments later. The fire was extinguished without much damage. Sometime during the evening someone broke the glass in a window of the old electric light station on Bates street, now used us a rag store house, and setting fire to some paper, poked it a through the window and tried thus to set fire to the building. The sneaky attempt was discovered and the fiame extinguished before any damage was done. The department was not called out. Secretary o' State.

John Pettingili, of East Auburn, is authority for the statement that peachers are taking large numbers of trout from Townsend brook. He knows the brook is Townsend brook. He knows the brook is being fished every week-day and every Sunday. "If yo'l don't believe it," he says, "go up there and see the beaten paths along the banks." If Mr. Pertingill is correctly informed in this matter it will be well for the Lake Auburn Fish Protective Association to look into it. With such a strong organization and the law behind it, it can be mide very unprofitable business for the place its. Combot land.

The Republican caucuses for the selection of delegates to the State and District Conventions will be held in the new wurds Friday night. As no paper will be issued from this office Frical morning, to-day being a legal holiday, we take this occas on to call the attention of the Republican voters to the caucuses. The two day of next week, the State Convention to select Presidential Electors and four Delegates-at-Large to the National Convention wil be held in Norombega Hall in the forencon; the District Convention to nominate a candidate for Congress and to se-lect delegates to the Minnespolis conven-tion $500. | Interest, January and tior will be held in City Fall in the afternoon. Bangor should be represented by strong delegations in each convention and to this end there should be alarge attendance.

The Election Monday. The special election to settle the Mayor Dandelion and alty question for the remainder of the year will take place next Monday. The Spinach Greens. Republicans should prepare to complete the work so well begun at the regular election, when they wrested another ward from the control of the Democrate, by the Stalls 1 and 2, Central Market House. election of the Republican candida Mayor. For purposes of its own the Dem ocratic organ in this city has declared over and over again that there is no political sign fleance in this election, but if the Democratic candidate is elected the momen: the returns are declared it will begin to shout itself hourse over what it will hen proclaim a great Democratic victory. Our contemporary is trying to play a sly game, but it ought not to deceive a single __mateur Photographers,

This is a Presidential year and a complete Republican victory now will give an mpetus to the September campaign. We are aware that there has been Republican opposition to Mr. Beal, but as the question out of which this opposition grew was settled when the peop e voted to lease the city's road and thus get it out of poli-ties, now is a good time to get the organization in working order for the more important campaign in the Sail. More it should be remembered that afer. Beal is the unanimous nomines of the party. The caucus afforded the individual voter an opportunity to express his personal preference, but the majority must govern is these matters. This is one of the principles for which the party has always contended, and it should be respected in intended, as well as in State and National

We hope, therefore, that the Republicans will make every effort to bring out a full vote Monday. A very small gibs over the regular election will give up the cover the regular election will give up s Republican Mayor and the party organization will be strongthone 'for suppose.

The debate was a triangular oneome of the Speakers favoring the Boutelle amendment, some the bill as reported from the committee, and others Mr. Holman's proposition, which opposed any appropriation whatever. The only speaker from the East, excepting Mr. Boutelle, was Mr. Covert, one of the New York Democratic Representatives, who made an earnest and imparaioned appeal in support of the Boutelle amendment. He stated that the Secretary of the Navy had officially informed the House that the appropriation called for by the umendment was essential and could be advantageously expended now in the reliabilitation of our navy. Behind the recommendation of the Secretary came the

The claim that stock in the Lone Star Cotton Picker Company must pay phenomenal dividends is well sustained by the evidence. In fact very large dividends are not so phenomenal as is generally supposed for obvious reasons when enormous dividends are deckared the companies interested give as little. n exra-fine quality of French ladies' cloth when enormous dividends are declared the companies interested give as little publicity as possible. The Bell Telephone and Standard Oil Companies are not alone in making large returns. The Western Union Telegraph Company is a case in point. Every investment of $1000 in it, in 1888, has paid 300 per cent. a y-ar on an alverage, for the last 32 years. The owner of that stock has received in dividends $100,000 in cold cash, and his original investment of $1000 in lond in the property of the p for plain cloth are trimmed with fine gold raid. years. It is estimated that the telegraph is It is estimated that the telegraph is used by less than 5,000,000 of people in the United States out of a population of 62,000,000. In the case of the Cutton Picker, more than 5,000,000 of people would be personally interested in the actual use of the machine in the field. And every inhabitant in the world is a wearer of the cutton which its use cheapens. It required a man of far more than average courage to invest in W. U. Telegraph stock 32 years ago, as the evidences of its great value were hard to find and no precedents existed; but some did invest, and today rejoice that they did so.

In the case of the Cotton Picker, no such phenomenal courage is required—the facts are easy to lean and results can

In the case of the Cotton Picker, no such phenomenal courge is required—the facts are easy to learn and results can be predicted with certainty. What is required is a careful investigation. The claim is made that the Cotton Picker is the equal in promise of any, and should incite instead of repel investigation. Creat risks are not necessarily the accompaniment of great returns, neither are small dividends an assurance of security. It is purely a question of evicurity. It is purely a question of evidence, and the evidence of the great uenc , and the evidence of the great value of an investment n Cotton Picker stock will be furnished at 11 Milk St., Boston, Mass., where the machine can be seen and stock purchase i.

We do not know why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is so useful in those simple but varied conditions which you know as "having a cough." We cannot explain it: we only know the fact from experience.

It may be due to the combination of tonic effects of cod-liver oil and the hypophosphites; it may be partly due to the glycerine. There are many effects in medical practice the causes of which appear to be plain, but how those causes procuce those effects we do not know at all.
